Episcopal Convention in Session; Dr. McKim Gives Brent Letters

Philippine Bishop May Be Asked to Reconsider Washington Call.

The Episcopal diocesan convention met in the Church of the Epiphany at 11:30 o'clock today to consider what ac tion of Bishop Brent to accept the Washington bishopric, and to elecanother bishop. It is impossible to forecast who will be elected. There ing Bishop Brent because of a alleged misunderstanding on the part of the bishop about his previous election.

The Rev. Dr. Randolph McKim, president of the convention, reported upon the correspondence between himself and Bishop Brent reading the cablegram and letters of notification sent by him is behalf of the convention, and Bishor Brent's reply. He said that he wishe to give an account of his stewardship On the evening the convention adjourned he sent the following cablegrad to Bishop Brent:

Cablegram to Bishop Brent,

"Brent, Manila: Elected bishop Washington, Second ballot; big major-

Later he sent another cablegram, asking Bishop Erent to await a letter. On the evening of May 7 Dr. McKim said he drafted the official letter to Bishop Brent announcing his election by a big majority, telling him that the convention harmoniously was in favor of his taking the office, and would give him its earnest support. After reading the letter Dr. McKim said he noticed an omission, in that he had not said the election was on the second ballot, and election was on the second ballot, and he added a postscript to this effect. It then occurred to him that the con-vention should know as soon as possible of Bishop Brent's decision, and sent an-other message asking Bihop Brent to send his decision by cable. He also sent Bishop Brent a cable stating the salary and allowances for secretary.

Bishop Brent Declines.

June 5, said Dr. McKim, he received a cable from Bishop Brent as follows: "Must decline. Would go, but God bade me stay."

Dr. McKim said that he had heard rumors to the effect that members of the board of missions in New York had cabled Eishop Brent that the mission would not get the support it had been receiving should he leave. This fact, however, he could not establish.

Dr. McKim then said that he would not mention the fact except that it had been rumored that his cables to Bishop Brent had hurried his decision, but that he cabled Bishop Brent as follows:

"Did cable 20th hurry decision? Had letter been received?"

Did Not Await Letter. This Bishop Brent replied by cable:

Dr. McKim said that he had acted only on his best judgment in the matter and on all points had consulted the standing committee, and he did not believe that Bishop Brent's decision was altered.

altered.

It was a fact, he said, that Bishop Brent had declined the Washington bishopric before receiving his letter, but one of the cables had expressly asked that he await the letter, "And more than all else," said Dr.

"And more than all else," said Dr.

THE REV. GEORGE C. CARTER Leading Candidate for Bishop of Wash-

McKim, "I have heard Bishop Brent say that nothing would ever induce him to leave the mission, and through the wording of his cablegram, but God bade me stay I don't think that anything could have altered his decision."

Upon motion of the Rev. Dr. Brown it was unanimously voted that the correspondence be made a part of the journal of the convention, and the convention express its confidence in Dr. McKim, its president, and indorse his action.

Prominent Men Delegates.

Many prominent Washingtonians attended the convention as lay, delegates. Among those seated were Admiral Endicott, Gen. John M. Wilson, and Thomas Nelson Page. The calling of isterial delegates were absent, the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith being detained by the serious illness of his son, and the ther thirteen being out of the city. There was no indication at the first ssion of the probable action of the convention. It is thought by many that Bishop Brent will be re-elected, while many others are convinced that the conention is more divided than it was before, and that after considerable ballot-ing a local candidate will be elected. For two hours before the convention was called to order delegates were busy in the anteroom of the church doing "missionary" work.

Leader Among Candidates.

The Rev. G. Calvert Carter, of Washgton, who ran second to Bishop Bren velop a strong following today.
Other local candidates who have a strong following are the Rev. G. C. F Bratenahl and the Rev. Dr. Randolph
